

President Nears Decision

Bulletin

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon asked the television networks for time to address the American public at 9 p.m. EDT, the networks said today.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon summoned Vice President Gerald R. Ford to the White House today to inform him he has decided to resign from the nation's highest office, a presidential aide said today.

The aide refused to be identified, but he is in a position near the Oval Office. His terse response — "Yes" — to a newsman came amid other strong indications that the Republican chief executive's 2,026-day presidency was plunging toward an end.

Official White House spokesmen continued to refuse to divulge Nixon's plans. But other sources said it appeared likely Nixon would disclose his decision later today.

One knowledgeable White House official stopped just short of saying a final presidential decision had been made. "I'm 99 and 9-10 per cent certain, but who really knows?" this official said.

Shortly after Ford's office announced he was postponing a scheduled 12-day political trip to the Far West, correspondents were called into the White House briefing room by Deputy Press Secretary Gerald R. Warren.

Warren then announced that Nixon had "asked the vice president to come over for a private meeting."

A few minutes later, the meeting had begun. The two leaders were alone in the splendid solitude of the Oval Office.

Ford was to attend a Republican telethon scheduled for broadcast to West Coast states from Los Angeles tonight. That affair was put off because of "the fast-changing situation in Washington" according to a party official. And the Ford spokesman said "That was the reason for our going today and that's the reason the trip's been postponed."

A White House spokesman also confirmed that Nixon met until nearly midnight Wednesday with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, the man to whom Nixon would deliver a resignation if one is forthcoming.

Asked about the purpose of the Kissinger meeting in the White House living quarters, Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said, "I have no way of knowing."

Kissinger returned to the White House today but reporters were told he had not met with Nixon. And Kissinger told one newsman he had not received a letter of resignation from the President, but declined further questions.

There was little change in the mood of anticipation throughout the capital. Rumors continued unabated that Nixon already had decided to end his long political career.

One official close to the Oval Office when asked about the timing of a presidential decision, said:

"I wouldn't go on vacation today if I were you."

Other sources said Raymond K. Price, Nixon's top speechwriter, had been assigned the task of drafting an "appropriate speech."

But they said they didn't know when or if the speech would be delivered.

On Capitol Hill, assistant Senate Republican leader Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, who has urged Nixon to resign, said he hoped there would be a decision by Friday.

"I hope so and I think so," Griffin told newsmen.

Sources said presidential speechwriters were instructed four days ago to prepare material for a possible resignation statement.

The New York Daily News, meanwhile, said today Nixon would deliver a resignation speech over national television by Friday, barring a last minute change in plans. The paper quoted an unnamed White House aide and said Nixon's decision came after Republican congressional leaders turned against him on the impeachment issue, and after he received recommendations to resign from trusted advisers.

The News also said his wife, Pat, and daughters Julie Eisenhower and Tricia Cox "argued vehemently" against resignation.

Nixon himself has been publicly silent on the rapid erosion of his position since he admitted on Monday that he tried two years ago to thwart an FBI Watergate probe and then withheld that information from Congress and his own lawyer.

But he summoned three Republican congressional leaders to the White House Wednesday and was told his situation on Capitol Hill "is very gloomy ... very distressing."

—Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., was reported to be ready to introduce a resolution intended to grant Nixon immunity from prosecution if he resigns. And the Chicago Tribune said a former White House aide was discussing immunity for Nixon with key members of Congress.

—Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe, saying he is reluctant to discuss impeachment publicly, said it is up to Nixon alone to decide whether to resign.

As rumors of an imminent resignation swept the capital, Nixon spent hours in private with his family and closest aides.

Transition Would Be Sudden, Simple

WASHINGTON (AP) — If President Nixon should resign or be removed from office by impeachment, the transition to a new administration would be sudden and complete with a minimum of ceremony.

The new president would take office as quickly as in the past when a president has died. But the fact that the outgoing president is alive and well complicates the matter a bit.

When one president succeeds another after an election, the tradition is that the mantle of office changes hands when the new man takes the oath. Despite the complications, that probably would be the case in the event of resignation or impeachment.

Should Nixon become the first president in the history of the office to resign, it is likely that the change of command from President Richard M. Nixon to President Gerald R. Ford would be accomplished before most Americans even knew about it.

All that would be required for Nixon to quit the office would be for him to transmit a document of resignation to the secretary of state.

But in the interest of national security in the nuclear age, Nixon almost certainly would have Ford on hand to take the oath of office as his successor immediately.

In the case of a president being forced from office by impeachment, the procedure would be a little more cumbersome but almost as immediate.

The only constitutional requirement for removing a president from his office is a two-thirds vote of guilty to any one article of impeachment. Technically, then, Nixon would cease to be president as soon as a losing vote was announced.

However, for such a momentous occasion, some ceremony is required. The Senate rules under which the trial would be conducted state that upon conviction "the Senate shall proceed to pronounce judgment."

Presumably, the chief justice as presiding officer at the trial would make the announcement. Then deposit of a certified copy of the judgment with the secretary of state completes the process.

Ford, no doubt, would be close at hand to take the oath. However, scholars disagree as to the embarrassing gap that would exist between the fatal vote, Nixon's notification and the filing at the State Department.

The Constitution requires a president to take the oath "before he enters on the execution of his office." But as a practical matter he must become president the instant a vacancy exists.

What would happen if the incumbent, though convicted at an impeachment trial, insisted on holding on until he was formally notified and his successor sworn in, is anybody's guess.

Whatever the status of the presidency, the office of vice president would be vacant the moment Ford ascended to the top job. But under the new 25th Amendment Ford could name a new vice president and presidential successor subject to ratification by Congress.

Many officials of the Nixon administration, such as Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, would likely stay on in a new Ford administration, for a while at least.

Meanwhile, the ousted president could be indicted, tried and punished for any criminal acts he might have committed in office.

Resignation Rumors Hard To Track

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chasing reports that the President would quit was like being in a cave full of echoes. Everybody had heard something. Nobody was sure where it was coming from.

It was a hunt for one of the biggest news stories of the century. Here is how it was Wednesday for reporters who didn't find it.

Two newspapers, in Phoenix and Providence, said Nixon had decided to resign. White House spokesmen wouldn't give a straight answer. The game was afoot.

Reporters sought out Vice President Gerald R. Ford, who would be sworn in the moment the President stepped down. No clues there. Ford went ahead with plans to appear at a routine ceremony Thursday morning.

One White House aide reported that Nixon would resign, but wasn't sure when. Nothing first-hand.

A Democratic member of the House Judiciary Committee, Charles Rangel of New York, said he had been told by one of Nixon's Republican defenders on the committee that a resignation might come soon. "He said, 'Don't write your impeachment speech, you won't get a chance to use it,'" Rangel said. "I tried to pump him, but he wouldn't say anything." Intriguing, but what did it mean?

There was a rumor that Edward Cox, the President's son-in-law, had been summoned to Washington from New York. The rumor proved to be true. Then it was reported that the President had met with his family at the White House. But what did he tell them?

A call to yet another Republican congressman brought this response: "I've been listening to the radio all afternoon. Nobody will tell me anything either."

Another Democratic congressman, who asked not to be named, said a senior Republican colleague had told him Nixon would quit Friday. But there was no indication where the information originated.

Various television news reports quoted various sources as indicating Nixon would resign.

Nixon Faces Possible Prosecution

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon faces possible criminal prosecution should he resign or be removed from office, but several escape routes may be open to him.

Congress or special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski could take steps to save Nixon from a criminal trial. So could Vice President Gerald R. Ford if he succeeds to the presidency.

Some legal experts believe Nixon could even pardon himself of all crimes before leaving office, but that is viewed as only a remote possibility.

Most constitutional scholars concede that a president cannot be indicted while in office, although it is not an undisputed legal principle.

The Watergate grand jury ducked the issue when it chose to name Nixon as an indicted co-conspirator in the Watergate cover-up.

Nixon was accused as a co-conspirator in the plot to block the original Watergate investigation and conceal the White House involvement in the break-in at Democratic national headquarters June 17, 1972.

Monday, he admitted ordering the investigation halted for political reasons and concealing the information from his lawyers and the House Judiciary Committee.

Some members of Congress say Nixon, in effect, confessed to obstructing justice, a crime carrying a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $5,000 fine. Multiple counts and related charges would increase the potential penalties.

If Nixon resigns, he would be vulnerable to an indictment.

If he were convicted in an impeachment trial, he would be removed from office and similarly vulnerable because the Constitution states that "the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment according to law."

To avoid that fate, Nixon could attempt to strike a deal with Jaworski. The President could offer to resign in exchange for the prosecutor's promise not to bring criminal charges. But the deal would not necessarily bind a grand jury.

President's Photographer Describes Family Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) "It was pathetic. I had tears in my eyes."

The President of the United States, in shirt sleeves, was greeting his family — his wife, two daughters and their husbands — in an upstairs room at the White House Wednesday night.

The witness: Oliver "Ollie" Atkins, personal photographer to Richard Nixon in good times and bad since 1968.

Nixon, seemingly poised on the brink of becoming the first American president to resign the office, was gathering his family for a private dinner after hearing gloomy tidings from Senate and House Republican leaders and party elder Barry Goldwater.

Atkins was there, as on many occasions in the past — in Peking and Moscow and at inaugural balls — to record a moment in history.

Just a few minutes earlier he had photographed the beleaguered President walking in the White House Rose Garden with daughter Tricia Cox.

The White House press office reported Nixon and Mrs. Cox just happened to meet as the President was walking home to dinner and that Atkins just happened to walk by with a loaded camera as father and daughter decided to take an evening stroll.

In the past this explanation would, more than likely, have been the prelude to another public relation move — a distribution to the news media of official White House photos.

In fact, two White House officials indicated that was the plan Wednesday night.

No matter. It was an evening to be recorded on film.

Just two days earlier, the President had made public a transcript of a 1972 conversation with H. R. Haldeman that was judged damning by many of Nixon's bedrock supporters in Congress. In addition to talking about using the CIA to thwart the FBI's Watergate investigation, Nixon and Haldeman discussed the campaign value of behind-the-scenes pictures by Oliver Atkins.

"... what good does an Ollie picture do?" asked Nixon.

"Doesn't do any good," replied Haldeman.

Perhaps that is why a White House spokesman said late Wednesday the latest Atkins' photos would not be made public. More likely this time the film was too private, too poignant.

"It was pathetic. I had tears in my eyes," Atkins said.

Sirica Gets Remaining Nixon Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The last of the White House tapes ordered turned over by the Supreme Court, save for 10 that apparently don't exist, are in the hands of U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica.

In turning over the subpoenaed tapes on Wednesday, White House attorney James D. St. Clair said at least 10 of the 64 taped conversations sought by the special Watergate prosecutor do not exist because they took place over a telephone which had no recording device.

St. Clair appeared in court Wednesday to account for the final 31 tapes sought by the prosecutor for use in the Watergate cover-up trial scheduled for Sept. 9.

Among the missing tapes are three phone calls between President Nixon and former aides H. R. Haldeman or John D. Ehrlichman.

Those conversations were taped April 16, 18 and 19, 1973, nearly two weeks before the two aides resigned.

Another subpoenaed tape St. Clair told Sirica does not exist was of a phone call between Nixon and another ex-assistant, Charles W. Colson. That took place June 20, 1972, three days after the Watergate break-in.

In explaining why the 10 conversations were never recorded, St. Clair said most took place from Nixon's bedroom telephone which had no recording device.

Meanwhile, Sirica has ordered five of the original taped conversations turned over to the prosecutors for their use in developing evidence against the six defendants. Among the six are Ehrlichman, Haldeman and former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell.

Gilligan's Purchase Of First Ticket To Open Lottery

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Ohio takes a gamble Friday when Gov. John J. Gilligan buys the first ticket, inaugurating the state lottery.

Opening day was moved up from Monday after reports surfaced that some southern Ohio banks had released tickets to sales agents and that some residents may have beaten the governor to the purchase, a lottery spokesman said.

"Ticket agents may pick up their tickets from their designated banks on the morning of Aug. 9 and begin sales immediately," said Lottery Executive Director John Kirkland.

A lottery spokesman said most banks already have the tickets.

The tickets will be available at 50 cents apiece at grocery stores, service stations, chain department stores, restaurants, bars and grills, news stands and many other locations, the spokesman said.

The first drawing is scheduled for Parma on Aug. 22. Drawings will be held Thursdays, moving from city to city. Ticket sales for each drawing will begin the Tuesday before.

A single three-digit number and then a double three-digit number will be drawn. If the single three-digit number matches any of the five three-digit numbers on your ticket, you win $20 and become eligible for the millionaire drawing every six to eight weeks. You get your $20 from the agent who sold you the ticket.

If one of the double numbers appears in a blue box and the other in a green box, you win $500.

If both numbers appear in blue boxes, you win $1,000.

If both numbers of the double appear in green boxes, you are entered in the Buckeye 300 with $15,000 guaranteed and a chance to win $30,000, $60,000 or $300,000.

Double-number winners must present tickets at regional lottery offices here and in Canton, Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton, Marietta and Toledo.

Buckeye 300 qualifiers must have tickets validated by calling state lottery headquarters in Cleveland.

Every week, millionaire candidates will be selected randomly from the pool of $20 winners. Dates of the millionaire drawings will depend on how fast tickets sell.

At a news conference, Kirkland said ticket sales agents would be foolish to sell on credit. He said agents still have to pay for their tickets in cash and that credit card organizations usually charge a commission that would wipe out an agent's five per cent commission on sales.

Geneva Conference Eyes Cyprus Peace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Greek Foreign Minister George Mavros said prospects for the second round of Cyprus peace talks today "are gloomy and I am pessimistic."

The foreign ministers of Greece, Turkey and Britain are seeking a political settlement to build on the cease-fire so far largely ineffectual that they signed eight days ago in the talks' first round.

"No self-respecting man can approach the second round of the negotiations while the agreement of the first round is still not being applied," Mavros told newsmen at Geneva airport.

The talks opened last week.

On Cyprus, a member of a British television crew was killed by a land mine and four other foreign newsmen were wounded as a press convoy entered the town of Lapithos.

Newsmen in the convoy said Ted Stoddard, a soundman for the British Broadcasting Corp., was killed when he stepped on the mine. The wounded were Paul Roque, a French photographer of The Associated Press; Chris Morris, a British correspondent of the BBC; Lefkos Christodoulides, an American of Greek descent on assignment for the New York Times; and Simon Dring, another Briton with the BBC.

In New York, the Greek mission to the United Nations declared that Cyprus must be demilitarized in order to preserve its independence. The U.N. mission of the new civilian Greek government said Turkish withdrawal would be the "first urgent step" toward peace.

The mission said that when that is done, Greece would recall all its officers and other military personnel from the island.

Greek officers on Cyprus led the coup last month that ousted President Makarios.

The Greek U.N. mission added that Athens did not intend to negotiate at Geneva until Cyprus was made a party to the talks. Britain, Greece and Turkey — guarantors of Cypriot independence under a 1960 treaty — signed the July 30 cease-fire agreement.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Trading was active but indecisive in the stock market today as expectations heightened that President Nixon was about to resign.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 5.95 at 791.61, although advances continued to lead declines by about 7-4 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said the rally of the past three days was chilled by the government's report that wholesale prices soared at a 44.4 per cent annual rate in July. One analyst speculated that that news would have sent the market into a sharp decline if many investors hadn't been preoccupied by unfolding developments in Washington.

Barber Oil was the most active NYSE issue, unchanged at 25½ in a 100,000 share block trade.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up .16 at 79.12.

The Big Board's composite index was down .23 at 43.03.

Accident Stops High-Speed Chase

A high-speed chase involving a Circleville youth in a reported stolen car and Circleville Police Ptl. Ron Smith came to an abrupt conclusion early Thursday morning when the boy smashed the vehicle into the rear of a pickup truck at the intersection of Routes 23 and 665 in Franklin County.

The juvenile, who was not hurt, was charged with car theft, reckless operation, fleeing a police officer, speeding 60 miles an hour in a 35 zone, and driving on a permit without a licensed driver.

The chase began at 3:01 a.m. when Ptl. Smith, who had turned off E. Main St. onto N. Pickaway St., spotted a 1965 Chevrolet weaving from side to side as it drove through the intersection of Pickaway and High Sts., headed north, according to the report.

The officer caught up with the car in front of Berger Hospital and attempted to stop it with his red light.

However, according to Ptl. Smith, the vehicle picked up speed, turned onto Route 188 and then Atwater Ave., reaching speeds of 60 miles an hour.

The chase continued down Morris Rd. and north on County Road 511 to Route 23 where speeds reached in excess of 100 miles an hour, Smith said, in a driving rain storm that impaired visibility.

Both cars entered South Bloomfield and turned onto Route 316. Speeds slowed from about 80 miles an hour to 50 in Ashville, but climbed back to near 100 as the chase continued north on Circleville-Lockbourne Road, according to the report.

After leading Ptl. Smith into Lockbourne, the youth headed back towards Route 23.

Near the intersection, Smith said the car ran off the right side of the road down a 20 foot bank. After traveling about 30 feet, the car came up the other side of the bank onto Route 23, cut across the median strip, and swung back into the northbound lane with Ptl. Smith in pursuit.

Again at speeds over 100 miles an hour according to Smith, the chase continued until the officer spotted a traffic build-up at the intersection of Route 665.

The youth apparently saw two trucks blocking the highway and attempted to brake the car. However, it skidded sideways and struck the rear of a pickup truck.

After impact, the car spun around six or seven times, Smith said, and came to rest on the right side of the roadway.

The accident investigation was handled by the Ohio State Highway Patrol. Other officers assisting were from the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, and Hamilton Twp. and Obetz police.

The car involved was stolen from Clarence Robinson, 347 E. Ohio St., according to the report.

Common Pleas Court Holds Arraignments

Arraignments were held Wednesday in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court for the four men indicted by the grand jury last Friday.

The court also heard cases against five other individuals appearing on criminal charges during the session of court.

Two pleas were entered by Ricky Lee Jester, New Holland, charged with attempted escape and attempted murder arising when he allegedly tried to kill Deputy Lawrence Holt who was bringing him to the Pickaway County Jail on a misdemeanor charge.

Jester entered pleas of not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity to each charge and the court will order a psychiatric examination at a later time.

Judge William Ammer accepted pleas of not guilty entered by Virgil Monroe Dett, Chillicothe, Gary R. Butcher, Grove City, and Robert Shaffer, Columbus. Dett was indicted for receiving stolen property, Butcher for theft, and Shaffer for aggravated burglary. These cases will be scheduled for hearing at a later time.

Appearing for violation of probation

Republicans Said Upset With Perk

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Unhappiness with Mayor Ralph J. Perk's effort to beat former astronaut John Glenn in their race for the U.S. Senate has led the national Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee to scratch the contest from its list of key campaigns, The Plain Dealer reported Thursday.

Quoting "sources," the newspaper said the action also reflected national GOP leaders' belief Perk cannot win. The Plain Dealer said erasure from the list means Perk's campaign will not receive any sizeable financial aid from committee funds.

Buell Berentsen, executive director of the committee, declined comment but said funds are being distributed to candidates on the list. Up to $75,000 has been contributed to candidates in the past, The Plain Dealer said.

Perk has not received any money from the committee and has no promise of any, his campaign manager, Robert T. Bennett, said.

"They don't want to go into a race unless they have a sure winner," Bennett said of the committee members. But he added he had not received word of the committee's decision.

The newspaper said one Ohio GOP leader said Berentsen was unhappy with the progress of the mayor's campaign.

"The last time I talked with him (Berentsen), he didn't think it was moving along," the leader said.

The newspaper reported earlier that committee staffers were considering dropping the race from the list.

were Dale Miller and Charles D. Mosher who had both been convicted some time ago for rape and embezzlement respectively. The court found both guilty as charged of violating probation, deferred disposition of the case against Mosher, and extended Miller's probation until April, 1976. Further order of Miller's sentence specified he keep up his support payments.

A sentence of six months to five years was suspended in the case heard against Steven Russell Merritt charged with breaking and entering. Merritt was placed on probation for a period of three years.

Ammer also suspended the sentence passed on Terry Lee Adams charged with breaking and entering and possession of burglary tools. He sentenced Adams to two concurrent terms at Mansfield Reformatory for Men and suspended the prison terms placing him on probation for three years.

Vicki L. Hill appeared before the court on a second offense of issuing a check with insufficient funds to cover it and was placed on probation for three years. The court found her guilty as charged and suspended a sentence of 1-5 years at Marysville Reformatory for Women. Part of her probation includes restitution for the checks and payment of the court costs.

Floods Hit South U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain brought cooler temperatures to parts of the nation today but also triggered destructive flooding in North Carolina.

More than 5 inches of rain fell in the midlands of North Carolina through Wednesday, sending the Lumber River out of its banks. The river was six feet above flood stage early today and two feet below the record.

The National Weather Service reported many highways covered by water in and near Lumberton.

Flooding also was expected in portions of Georgia and Tennessee.

Two inches of rain poured on Kirksville, Mo., Wednesday, and more than an inch fell in Victoria, Tex.; Atlanta and Augusta, Ga., and Columbia, S.C. Winds gusted to 66 miles per hour during a thunderstorm in Augusta and a tornado was sighted near Victoria.

Showers and thunderstorms were scattered through the lower Ohio Valley, upper and middle Mississippi Valley, high Plains, the Rockies and the Plateau region.

Tornadoes were sighted near Dalhart, Tex., and Havre, Mont. But there were no reports of damage or injuries. Winds blew up to 58 miles per hour at Jackson, Wyo.

Fair skies dominated the country west of the Continental Divide, most of the Plains, Great Lakes region and the north Atlantic Coast.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 94 at Needles, Calif., to 46 at Laramie, Wyo.

Zanesville Area Has Pair Of Ohio Historical Museums

Two of The Ohio Historical Society's newest Yesterday Getaways are located within a short drive of one another near Zanesville in Muskingum and Perry counties.

The National Road, or as many know it, Route 40, was the first permanent land link from Ohio to the east. Its construction took almost 50 years, but for more than a century this famous road served countless millions of travelers in everything from Conestoga wagons to automobiles. Interstate 70 replaced the National Road in the 1960's as the main east-west artery through Ohio.

To present the dramatic and colorful history of the nation's first great public works program for transportation, the National Road-Zane Grey Museum was opened in 1973 at the side of old Route 40, near the Norwich exit of I-70, east of Zanesville. This contemporary center, constructed as a huge quadrangle around an open courtyard, depicts many facets of National Road and Ohio land transportation history.

Historic vehicles — Conestoga wagons, carriages, early bicycles and antique autos — are shown resting on roadbeds which illustrate how changes in transportation prompted improvements in the roads themselves, from gravel to macadam, brick, concrete and asphalt.

Scenes, signs, and services once found on the National Road are presented by means of the life-size recreations of a pioneer camping site, a tavern common room, a blacksmith and wheelwright's shop.

Unifying the entire presentation is a display that will be the delight of any man, woman, boy or child who has assembled a model kit. It's a miniature history of the construction of the National Road that advances the viewer from Cumberland, Maryland to Vandalia, Illinois; a scale modeler's dream meandering around the walls of the museum for 136 feet. With model figures and vehicles, the buildings, structures and activities of this famous road are re-created in every detail.

But this museum also brings to life the literary contributions of Zanesville native Zane Grey, "The man who made the West famous."

Grey was born in Zanesville in 1872 and was the grandson of Ebenezer Zane, the man who founded the famous Zane's Trace through the Ohio wilderness and on whose land Zanesville rose.

Grey wrote more than 80 novels in his career which were published in numerous foreign languages. His works won him the epithet, "Father of the Adult Western." But no less popular were his historical novels, based in the Ohio Valley, and his hunting and fishing adventure stories.

Just a few miles southwest of the National Road-Zane Grey Museum, on State Route 93 between Roseville and Crooksville, is the new Ohio Ceramic Center.

The Ceramic Center, opened for the first time this July 20th, overlooks the heart of the once thriving pottery industry area from a tree-covered hilltop.

The center is a unique arrangement of five separate buildings arranged around a courtyard. The inside wall on each of the colorful units can be pulled open to create a wide expanse of exhibit area.

Three of the five buildings house fascinating collections of ceramic products that were either made by Ohio potters or made in Europe for use in the state in the early years. These articles of redware, stoneware, Anglo-American ware and even industrial ceramics, are displayed on pedestals of sewer tile, with frames of clay conduit and at the bottom of water pipe connectors to show the wide range of ceramic products once made in this area.

The fourth building is the workshop of the Ceramic Center's demonstrators. These skilled ceramic craftspersons make, decorate and fire pottery while visitors look on and will even allow anyone who doesn't mind getting their hands dirty to try their own skill at throwing a clay vase or bowl on the potter's wheel.

The final unit is the information center and gift shop. Here visitors can buy many of the items made in the demonstration building, as well as other ceramic souvenirs.

The National Road-Zane Grey Museum is open year round from 9:30 to 5, Monday through Saturday and from 1 to 5 on Sunday. The Ohio Ceramic Center is open from 10 to 6, Wednesday through Sunday from April through October. Admission at both sites is $1 for adults and 50 cents for unaccompanied children 13 and under.

GNP's Ups And Downs

That conglomeration of the nation's total economic output known as the Gross National Product declined slightly in the first two quarters of this year, the first time this has happened in four years.

But the decline in the GNP was not accompanied by a gain in unemployment. But neither was there a reduction in the rate at which prices continue to rise.

One result is a further decline in the real spendable earnings of the average worker—a 4.5 per cent loss over the last 12 months though weekly earnings went up by about $10. Loss in buying power resulted mainly from inflation, but also reflected in it was a reduction in the number of hours worked.

A further corollary is a decline in the rate of savings and an increase in the rate of consumer spending. The latter was down at an annual rate of 4.7 per cent in the first quarter, then rose at 1.9 per cent in the second quarter.

Government economists profess to see it as evidence of consumer confidence. It seems more like a case of people buying now because they figure it would cost more if they waited.

That's continuation of inflationary psychology.

Dolls And Lindy

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

GREENWICH, Conn. — What have Charles A. Lindbergh and 10,000 dolls in common?

Easy.

They compose the remarkable collection of Samuel F. Pryor, Yaleman, ex-boxer, ex-Marine, ex-vice president of Pan American World Airways, and extraordinary friend and counselor to two renowned fellow septuagenarians, Gene Tunney and the reclusive hero the whole world once called "The Lone Eagle."

Pryor's collection of dolls and Lindberghiana is contained in a restored barn that was around and healthy when George Washington was President and living in his unbugged executive mansion. There is nothing like it in the world. The dolls are from almost every country in the world. The Lindbergh Corner, like the Poets' in Westminster Abbey, is small but select: letters, gifts (mostly dolls), the flying suits he and his wife wore in the single-engine Lockheed seaplane in which they flew "North to the Orient," which was the first U.S.-Japanese air link.

"There's never been a culture without a doll," Pryor, who still looks like he could go ten rounds, told a group of us making the tour. "Dolls are a marvelous common language, a kind of super-Esperanto. I've shown some of these over most of the world and the reaction has always been the same—delight, and not only just among the children. The appreciation of a beautiful doll isn't confined to any age group, or racial. Here's a case filled with Jewish and Arab dolls, all happy."

Pryor and his ineffably hospitable wife, Mary-Tay, maintain a special staff to do the dolls' laundry, dust or wash their beautiful faces, and keep the springs in the animated ones from rusting.

The National Geographic Society, Smithsonian Institution and several other organizations would be happy to take Pryor's incredible collection off his hands. Price would hardly matter to any of the bidders. But Sam wants to keep his treasure near him, and, of course, would not give up his Lindbergh collection for any sum. He seems to know every doll by name, and certainly by nationality. Sam is as Republican as, say, his friend Senator Barry Goldwater. But he'd like to show the collection one of these years in the Soviet Union.

"Imagine what a joy it would be for those Russian children to see the native costumes of the kids of other countries?" he asked our group. "Otherwise, they'll never know." There was instant agreement that it would do at least as much good as Kissinger's diplomacy.

Kings, queens, princes and the future Empress of Japan have contributed to Sam's collection. A desperate midnight search in Tokyo uncovered a tiny doll in a kimono which completed the miniaturized dolls-of-the-world he was scheduled to show to the Japanese royal family the next morning.

"It was a cliff-hanger," Sam recalled, pointing to a gracious note of thanks from the wife of Crown Prince Akihito.

Some of the animated dolls do the damndest things imaginable, under Sam's magic touch (and well-oiled springs). They play the violin, lyres, blow horns, smoke water-pipes, fix their hair and look at the finished result by lifting tiny mirrors, and thumb their noses at the French. (This is a Haitian doll, and Sam apologized in his courtly manner to the young girls on our tour in advance of winding him into action, and also explained to them how badly the French treated that colony.)

There are doll-like figures that gulp pennies, gadgets that taught children of a century and more ago how to save. One exception is a fat bronze figure that refused to accept the penny Sam placed on his hand.

"A Tammany politician, you can recognize him from his belly," slimline Sam said. Then put a nickel on the figure's hand and the "Tammany politician" immediately dumped it into its satchel.

"Same as today," Sam pronounced. Looks like a bad year for the Dems.

There are much more complicated doll arrangements. Sam explained one of them to Maureen O'Connell and the other little girls as well as to the senior citizens. It's a kitchen scene, circa 1830 or thereabouts. There had been a great scandal in France about the substitution of a cat for rabbit in certain popular dishes. Seems that rabbits were undergoing a planned parenthood crusade and were in short supply, hence the use of cats in the stew. The chef doll, cooking up a storm stew, while drinking heavily from a bottle of red wine, turns his head and angrily but soundlessly denies to his nagging wife that he has used a cat rather than a rabbit. At the height of their animated argument, the lid on a pot on the side of the stove opens, and a cat's head looks out. Things like that.

Anne Morrow Lindbergh called her friends, the Pryors, while we were there to tell them that the general, as Sam refers to her immortal husband respectfully, had had two good nights in the hospital. One of their sons who had been out of the country had flown home to see him, and that had cheered him.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The removal of President Nixon from office would do little immediately and directly to brighten the gray economic picture that Americans have viewed with frustration for so many months.

Many people are bound to view a new administration as a beginning, and therefore the depressed consumer outlook that shows up regularly in the polls might tend to lift. But the underlying problems won't disappear.

The stock market, to cite an obvious illustration, might put on one of its occasional spasms, but unless the economic facts are there to support higher prices that's all it might be, a paroxysm of excitement that can't be sustained.

It takes money to lift stocks, and that money at the moment is being invested mainly in the credit markets, where interest rates are so high that former stock owners have become bond holders.

A new president won't magically bring order.

Inflation doesn't respond to a wave of a magic wand either and it cannot be resolved by edict or plea. World demand for goods still exceeds supply. Bad weather destroys crops. Workers need pay raises. Prices rise.

The jobless rate might rise also, as most economists predict, perhaps to 6 per cent by the end of the year. The recession most likely will run its course. Housing can be expected to stay depressed.

True, a goodly number of people who felt the Watergate matter was a reason to suspend all plans and projections, now will be more inclined to act, and therefore some economic activity might result.

But simply because an individual now feels confident enough to buy the house so long postponed doesn't mean that he'll get the money to buy it. The savings institutions don't have it to lend.

It's the same with business loans. While some executives might decide that a presidential resignation or impeachment is an economic watershed, similar to the end of a major war, and therefore a time to spend and expand, they mightn't be able to find the funds to do so.

The economy's problems have a very real identity that is not even remotely associated with Watergate. True, many economists believe Watergate has worsened some problems, and may even have caused others. But it isn't the sole cause.

At best, a change might recharge faded hopes, restore pride and confidence, and reinforce the belief of so many Americans that the country can always work out its problems if given the leadership.

Two Charged With Aiding Escape Try

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Two San Antonio brothers have been charged with aiding and abetting Fred Gomez Carrasco in his fatal attempt to escape the Texas State Prison at Huntsville.

Authorities identified the men as Don Michael Colsten, 27, and William Colsten, 34. Bond was set at $100,000 each Tuesday night.

Authorities said the two allegedly "facilitated" the three weapons used by Carrasco and two other convicts in a 10-day holdout at the prison, where they held a total of 16 hostages. Carrasco, accomplice Rodolfo Dominguez and two hostages died in a shootout last Saturday night.

In Austin, Gov. Dolph Briscoe told newsmen he feels Texas Corrections Director W. J. Estelle "did all that was humanly possible" to protect the lives of hostages held by the armed convicts, considering the safety of the state at large.

"With all other Texans I grieve for the two slain hostages and their families. We all prayed that their lives could have been spared," Briscoe said.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Our six-year-old child was born with a marked indentation in his chest. He is in good health and it doesn't bother him. Still, we wonder if anything can be done about it.

Mrs. L.I., Wash.

Dear Mrs. L.:
The front of the chest wall is called the sternum. Deformities of the shape of this bone are not unusual.
Sometimes the chest bulges out with a prominence which is called a "pigeon breast." The condition you describe is known as "pectus excavatum," or a deep funnel in the chest wall.
Only occasionally are the vital organs of the heart and the lungs displaced by the pressure of the funnel chest. When this occurs surgical repair is needed.
Even in the absence of compression symptoms, many doctors consider surgery so that the child might be free of the embarrassment that may accompany it.
Some children feel stigmatized and therefore may refuse to socialize or play games that may make their deformity more apparent.
Operations for both pigeon breast and for funnel chest are extremely safe and the results are gratifying.

I can't believe it. One of our friends insists that there is a "cat cry" disease which is inherited. She always seems to come up with these wild ideas about medicine. Please set her straight.
Miss A. R., Fla.

Dear Miss R.:
Your friend does indeed have knowledge about a rare, but very definite disorder called the "cat-cry syndrome."
Because of some strange chromosomal defect a newborn child cries with a high-pitched, kitten-like sound. The cry sounds exactly like a mewling kitten.
There are a number of other birth characteristics associated with this genetic defect which, fortunately, is not a frequent aftermath of pregnancy.
SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH . . . Memory cannot always be trusted to recall illnesses and communicable diseases as they occur in families. It is wise to keep some health record of every member of the family. This becomes vital when giving a complete medical history to a doctor.

Highway Speeds On The Rise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — As the shouting over the energy crisis dies down, speeds on Ohio highways are edging upward, the Ohio State Highway Patrol reports.

Still, generally speaking, Ohioans are obeying the 55-mile-an-hour speed limit, the patrol said.

Violations are up. Patrolmen cited 25 per cent more motorists for speeding in June than during the same month last year—25,000 against 20,000.

But, patrol Maj. Adam Reiss said the law is working.

For one thing, Ohio has an exact speed law for the first time. Previously, the state's 70-mile-an-hour limit was what lawyers called a prima facie limit.

That meant that, if you were doing 75 or 80 and could prove in court that you weren't driving too fast for conditions at the time, you legally weren't speeding, attorneys said.

"A lot of courts told us not to bring people in that were doing 7 to 10 miles an hour above the limit unless we could prove it was unsafe," Reiss said.

The new law, which became effective March 1, doesn't give the motorist any margin. Legally speaking, 55 miles an hour means just that.

"But we don't cite many for going 2 or 3 miles over the limit," said Reiss. "The width of the speedometer needle can account for that much."

"I think there is better compliance with the 55-mile limit than there was the 70. Most of the tickets given out now are to persons going under 70."

Speed, however, has edged upward since the energy crisis relaxed and gasoline is easier to obtain, especially on weekends, Reiss said.

He estimated the average speed is up 1 mile an hour for cars and one-half mile for trucks.

"But, most people notice the trucks more," he said.

Cars and trucks, under the new law, have the same speed limits.

Reiss figures most of the violations are between 55 and 60.

"If you go 55 a great many cars pass you," he said. "If you go 60 you pass a lot of them."

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Hangovers And Sex Life

DEAR ABBY: My husband, who has always been a bit of a hypochondriac, is now on a vitamin kick.

He takes huge doses of vitamin C to "prevent colds." He takes vitamin B-complex in enormous quantities to "cure a hangover." And now he's added massive doses of vitamin E to "improve his sex life and prevent heart trouble."

Please ask some of your medical consultants if those vitamins do what they claim they'll do.

I don't take anything and I'm in better shape than my husband.

ANTI-VITAMINS

DEAR ANTI: "Taking something" has become a popular national pastime. No one should introduce a foreign substance into his body (vitamins included) without the knowledge and approval of his physician. Dr. Irvine H. Page, who has done exceedingly productive research in the prevention and alleviation of heart ailments says:

"There is growing evidence that gross overdosage of vitamins can cause not only harm to your pocketbook, but to your body." It's not much of an exaggeration to say that half the sick people in the world can be cured by going to bed, and the other half by getting up.

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for three months. This is my second marriage and Harvey's third. I am 55 and Harvey is 60.

We are living in Harvey's lovely large home, but I am not happy here. You see, Harvey has shared this home with his two former wives. There are so many memories here for him, as well as things that belong to his first wives.

Also, this house is much too big for the two of us. I would much rather have a smaller, cozier place. He could easily sell this house at a profit.

I love Harvey very much and he says he loves me. I've never told him how uncomfortable I am here. Would it be wrong to ask him to move?

NUMBER THREE

DEAR THREE: Ask him. And if he loves you, you're in for a moving experience.

Club Enjoys Tour Of Renick Garden

Members of the Circleville Garden Club toured the colorful garden of Harford Renick, Route 3, Aug. 2.

Partially surrounding the garden was a fence covered with Heavenly Blue Morning Glories. Each post displayed a hanging arrangement of lobelia and pink petunias.

Two huge beds of white petunias were in the center of the garden flanked by beds of zinnias, heliotrope, ageratum, allysum, cox-comb, phylox, blue salvia, tuberous begonias, statice, and other smaller beds of various plants.

Interspersed in the flowers were rhubarb and cucumber plants. Bordering the garden on two sides were many types of coleus.

In the yard closer to the house were ferns, begonias, gloxinias, a palm, Christmas cactus, sultanas and creep myrtle.

Members continued the tour through Mr. Renick's basement where he keeps his huge and assorted collection of African violets.

During the business meeting, Pumpkin Show projects were discussed. The nominating committee presented the slate of officers for the next year.

Miss Dhel Renick and Harford served the group a dessert.

Harsha Reports

BY WILLIAM H. HARSHA
Representative To Congress
Sixth District Of Ohio

A large portion of our tax dollars go to defense spending. Maintaining a strong system of defense preparedness is certainly an extremely vital matter even in this time of detente, but with the serious economic problems we face today, it is also extremely important to make sure that the money is wisely spent. Recently, the Congress enacted legislation authorizing defense expenditures for this fiscal year. Since it involves some $22.2 billion of the taxpayers' money, I'd like to explain some of the details of this legislation.

One of the most significant aspects of the bill is that in debating the proposal, Congress pared almost a billion dollars from the president's original budget request. I hope this fiscal scrutiny and reduced spending efforts are contagious when other sections of the budget are considered in the future. We certainly could use more of both in all government areas.

The largest chunk of the money will go to military procurement, $13.2 billion. That involves the purchase of weapons and equipment for the three branches of our armed services. A little over three billion of that amount will be spent on ship construction and modernization. In an earlier report, I described the need for improving our naval forces because of reports that the Russians were fast closing the gap between our two navies and could well surpass us in a few short years. On that basis, these authorizations do not appear to be out of line or unjustified.

Another provision prescribes that all combat vessels in the future will be nuclear powered unless the president determines it is not in the national interest. This is a subject which has been studied for decades. Considering the growing energy shortage and our need to rely on other fuel sources, this appears to be an idea whose time has come.

Most of the remaining money in the authorization bill would be spent in the research and development of new weapons and military machinery. Often in the past, this category of spending has been a watering hole for contractors who have fattened their government contracts thru unnecessary cost overruns, delays and other money wasting excuses. One of the most controversial projects in the research and development program, the B-1 bomber, however, received the go ahead for further expenditures but not without a few strings attached. Money for the fourth bomber to be built is contingent on the successful first flight of the prototype of the aircraft. For once, the government is going to test something out to see if it really works before it pumps billions of dollars into the project. That is another idea I hope is contagious in Congressional appropriations.

This bill also places a $1 billion ceiling on assistance to South Vietnamese forces in Fiscal 1975. This is over a half a billion dollars less than originally requested by the Administration. I think that sum is more than enough, if we are to prevent ourselves from getting trapped again into the Southeast Asian conflict.

In response to the recent controversy over Department of Defense animal research, this bill also sets more humane guidelines. It specifically prohibits any research on dogs for the purpose of developing biological or chemical weapons, but it does allow for the continuation of research on dogs for the purpose of saving lives.

Cutbacks ordered for civilians employed by the military are accompanied by reductions of noncombattant military personnel in Europe within two years. Six thousand will be home by June of next year and the remaining 12,000 by the following June. I think it's time the European NATO countries carry a larger and more equitable share of the burden of their own defense.

The burden of our own defense is costly enough these days for we are also fighting the most deadly menace of inflation. Our biggest weapon against it right now is lowered federal spending. Congress would do well to pare wasteful spending from other bills besides defense before we are short of our economic viability.

Ticket Sales For Lottery Open Friday

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Ohio lottery ticket sales will start three days earlier than previously announced, the lottery commission's executive director announced today. — "We're just jumping the gun on everything," a commission spokesman said.

The director, John Kirkland, said ticket sales will begin Friday instead of Aug. 12.

Kirkland said the lottery staff has completed delivery and mailing of the necessary material to over 10,000 ticket sales agents.

The ceremonial opening is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Friday when Gov. John J. Gilligan buys the first ticket officially, he said.

But sales agents may pick up their tickets from their designated banks on the morning of Aug. 9 and begin sales immediately, he added.

A commission spokesman said no change was planned in advertising already scheduled which bears the Aug. 12 starting date.

Woman Miner Doesn't Mind Work

ALBANY, Ohio (AP) — Linda Guisinger digs coal for a living, one of the first women to go down the deep Ohio shafts, but it isn't the heavy work that bugs her.

"It's just the rats and mice that bother me," said the 21-year-old Glouster, Ohio, woman.

Mrs. Guisinger and Sandy Wills, 29, of McArthur, work in Meigs Mine No. 2 owned by the Southern Ohio Coal Co. For two months they have been working alongside men miners.

"When I first went into the mine it wasn't what I expected," said Mrs. Guisinger, "but I didn't mind it once I got used to the dark."

It's still better than the work she did previously as a sales clerk, waitress and factory worker, Mrs. Guisinger said.

"Shoveling that wet coal is the hardest thing to do," she said. "Roof bolting isn't easy, but at least it doesn't break your back like shoveling does."

Roof bolting is inserting pins in the mine ceiling after a seam is mined out.

Many male miners resent women in the mine, Mrs. Guisinger said.

"Now the guys I'm working steadily with are getting use to me and they've been helping me out a lot, like showing me easier ways to do things," she said.

"In the beginning they would tell me the hard way to do something instead of helping me."

Mrs. Wills saw it differently. "I feel that most of the men have been really nice to me," she said. "They've helped me a lot."

Despite what she feels to be resentment, Mrs. Guisinger has stayed on the job.

"The pay is too good," she said.

The women trainees are paid the same $5.28 an hour given men in the same position.

Lindberg Arnold, the women's foreman, said he hesitated to approve hiring women at first but now thinks the company made a good decision.

"For females, they're doing good," he said.

Still, he doesn't think women ever will equal men in numbers down in the mines. The company, he said, plans to hire two more women soon.

"It looks like we're going to be stuck with them so we better make the most of it," Arnold said.

Man Kites Across Lake

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Charles Sousarczyk, 33, of suburban Brecksville rode a "kite" across Lake Erie today from Cleveland, a 50-mile trip he believes he is the first to complete in such a fashion.

Sousarczyk, a professional water ski-kite flyer and salesman since last year, landed at Rondeau Beach, Ont., about midmorning.

He dangled from a 42-pound stainless steel ski-kite that was attached to a friend's motorboat by a 300-foot towline.

The red and white sail was emblazoned with a Polish eagle emblem and his name.

"I think it is about time someone took a little pride in being a Polack," he said before the flight.

His longest previous flight had been about five minutes, he said.

Ohio Weather

By The Associated Press

The National Weather Service's "look ahead" for the weekend in Ohio sees a chance of showers throughout the period, and temperatures remaining mild with highs in the 80s and lows in the 60s.

All reporting stations early Thursday had temperature readings in the 60s. High temperatures today will be a bit cooler than Wednesday as cloudy skies and showers will prevent the sun from heating up the air. Highs today will be in the upper 70s and low 80s. Lows tonight will be in the 60s and highs Friday will again climb to the near 80 degree mark.

Showers and thundershowers dotted the state overnight and all sections of the state can expect some rain today and into Friday. The showers and thundershowers will be supplied with abundant moisture as a southerly flow of mild air will pump moist air into the state for the next few days.

He and his wife Barbara are the parents of two children, Eric and Mark. They reside at 427 Glenmont Court.

Coal Miners Expected To Resume Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mining operations are expected to resume at 18 southeastern Ohio coal mines before Aug. 12, according to an agreement reportedly reached Wednesday by United Mine Workers and the North American Coal Co.

The agreement reached at UMW headquarters in Washington would end a wildcat strike that has idled 4,600 miners.

The company said the agreement provides that North American foreman Denzil Carpenter be removed from supervisory duties until the Ohio Division of Mines rules on his certification.

Miners walked off their jobs last Thursday contending that Carpenter had been acting as a supervisor in violation of a federal court order.

The order was the result of a grievance filed by the UMW last year accusing Carpenter of wilfully violating safety standards at a mine where a worker died.

The union said North American also agreed to reinstate all miners suspended as a result of the work stoppage without loss of pay.

The state Department of Industrial Relations promised an investigation of the miners' charge that state mine inspections were lax.

Walking Candidate Visits Circleville Tuesday

Richard H. Harris, Republican candidate for State Treasurer who is walking the 1000-mile circumference of Ohio, arrived in Circleville Tuesday.

"The first 350 miles of my 1000 mile campaign walk around this state have shown me that the people of Ohio care how their tax dollars are managed", Harris said.

"This kind of grass-roots campaigning is sorely needed in Ohio. The people deserve to be listened to, and I'm going to do it".

Averaging 130 steps per minute, 10 miles per day, Harris began his walk in Toledo on June 15. He plans to circle the state, ending back in Toledo by October 1.

Harris recently exposed a foul-up in the state treasurer's office recently by revealing that the incumbent treasurer allowed an excess of $7 million to lay in mailbags on the floor of the office for more than two months. Interest lost to the state amounted to nearly $100,000.

"Eleven years of administrative experience in state government makes it clear to me that this kind of administrative incompetency should not and does not have to exist", Harris declared.

"I am offering my candidacy to the people of Ohio as a viable alternative to administrative incompetency and frivolous waste of the taxpayers' money demonstrated by the present Treasurer's administration", he said. "I am a highly qualified administrator and am confident that I can greatly improve the operations of the Treasurer's office".

A resident of Wauseon, Ohio, near Toledo, Harris, 42, worked his way up

Gilligan Press Aide 'Uptight'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The uptight season is here for key aids to public officials seeking re-election. Robert Tenenbaum, press secretary to Gov. John J. Gilligan, is a case in point. His nerves are beginning to be frayed.

It's never an easy job being press secretary to a governor in a state as large as Ohio. It becomes doubly hard during a political campaign. One job quietly becomes two.

The usually calm Tenenbaum has become ruffled recently by needing questions from reporters, especially with those touching on the governor's flip-flop on whether the state of Ohio had a budget surplus.

"We were wrong," says Tenenbaum crisply.

Gilligan himself has yet to call the extra $80.5 million a surplus. He has labeled it "excess funds for public spending" or "unanticipated funds."

Tenenbaum, who has a reputation for quick wit and a sense of humor, has been taking seriously any off-the-cuff questions that would indicate the governor may have made a mistake.

One well-known House Democrat has been criticizing Gilligan for his handling of monetary matters.

"He's no Democrat, is he?" asked Tenenbaum. "I thought he was a Republican."

Don R. Gosney, Democratic chairman in Columbiana County, has been lobbying legislators to pass a law taking away the election duties from the secretary of state.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, a Republican, recently refused to reappoint Gosney to the Columbiana County Board of Elections.

Brown said the one public payroll job was incompatible with another held by Gosney on the staff of U.S. Rep. Wayne Hays, D—Flushing, a long-time Brown foe.

Gosney wants the General Assembly to replace Brown's election role with a state board of elections, composed of two members from each of the state Democratic and Republican executive committees.

"This would make our state election system truly bipartisan," he said. "As it is now the secretary of state is king. He can appoint or not appoint members of the county boards of elections at his own whim."

Under present law Brown is the fifth member of all four-member county boards. He breaks tie votes and appoints board members, both Democratic and Republican, upon the recommendation of their own party officials.

"It seems strange," wrote Gosney to one legislator, "that both parties are represented at the county level by two members of each party, but the state election setup is run by one man from one political party."

Reds Blank Los Angeles, 2-0

Scioto Downs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers and Cincinnati Reds may make the race in the National League West real battle for more than a pennant.

At least Joe Morgan. Cincinnati's 5-foot-7, 155-pound second baseman, left Dodger Stadium with a grudge Wednesday night after a ninth-inning fight with 6-1, 185-pound Dodger Bill Buckner.

Johnny Bench's 22nd homer of the season with Morgan aboard in the third inning provided the offense for Jack Billingham's 14th victory, tops in the league, against seven defeats.

Billingham's six-hitter blanked the Dodgers 2-0 and cut the Los Angeles lead over the second-place Reds to 5½ games.

Both teams were traveling today, Los Angeles to St. Louis for a series starting Friday night; Cincinnati to New York for a weekend series against the Mets.

Maybe by Sept. 6, when the Dodgers and Reds next meet in Cincinnati, the fires will die down. But Morgan was bitter in the dressing room after Buckner, wearing rubberized cleats, slid high into second base.

"I've been in the big leagues 10 years and I've never fought before, but I'm not going to let anyone do that to me," said Morgan. "He better make sure I have the ball away when I see him coming the next time."

That's an obvious threat that Morgan would throw the ball at Buckner.

Buckner singled to open the bottom of the ninth. Jim Wynn grounded to shortstop Dave Concepcion, who threw to Morgan at second, forcing Buckner. Wynn called safe at first on a close relay by Morgan, and the Reds started arguing.

Suddenly Morgan and the scrappy Buckner were rolling on the ground and players from both benches rushed onto the field.

"I threw my glove down and swung," said Morgan.

"I hit him a few times," said Buckner.

"I went after him," Morgan said. "I saw my throw going to first base, then a shoe coming at my face. I tilted my head back and the foot caught me right here," he said, feeling his chest.

"I've been slid into plenty of times but if he kicks me in the face, I might be finished," said Morgan.

"I slid hard into second base but not all that hard," said Buckner. "I went past the bag and when I looked up I saw he was coming at me. I grabbed him and we fell to the ground."

Elsewhere in the NL Wednesday night, Philadelphia edged Chicago 3-2, Pittsburgh battered New York 10-1, Montreal topped St. Louis 7-5 and Houston downed Atlanta 6-4. San Diego and San Francisco were not scheduled.

Phillies 3, Cubs 2

Bob Boone's bloop double chased home two runs and keyed an eighth inning rally that moved Philadelphia past Chicago.

The victory pushed the Phillies to within 1½ games of first place St. Louis which lost to Montreal.

The Phils were trailing 2-1 with the bases loaded and two out in the eighth when Boone delivered his winning hit on a 1-2 pitch against reliever Tom Detmore.

Expos 7, Cardinals 5

Ex-American Leaguer Larry Bittner, making his first start for Montreal since being recalled from the minors last week, contributed a pair of clutch singles, driving in two runs as the Expos trimmed the Cardinals.

Bittner singled and scored on Barry Foote's hit in the third and then singled in front of Ken Singleton's RBI-double in the sixth.

Steve Renko went all the way for the victory.

Astros 6, Braves 4

Cliff Johnson climaxed an eighth inning Houston rally with a two-run pinch homer that lifted the Astros past Atlanta.

Lee May's RBI-double had tied the score before Johnson tagged his fourth pinch homer of the season to win it for Houston.

Darrell Evans and Dusty Baker homered for Atlanta.

Pirates 10, Mets 1

Rookie Larry Demery limited New York to just three hits for his first major league complete game and Manny Sanguillen and Ed Kirkpatrick slugged home runs for the Pirates.

Demery had the Mets shut out on one hit until the eighth inning.

Sanguillen had a two-run homer and Kirkpatrick a three-run shot as the Pirates moved to within 4½ games of first place St. Louis.

Portsmouth Still Tourney Favorite

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP) — Portsmouth, the undefeated team in the state American Legion Baseball tournament, will play the winner of today's fourway competition at Ashland College on Friday during the meet's finals.

Portsmouth defeated Miamisburg 8-7 Wednesday on Barry Sparks' two homers and Jerome Baker's relief pitching in which he gave up a single run in the eighth inning to move to the finals. Mark Yetter, who went the six innings, picked up the victory.

Lancaster meets Columbus Scioto while Cincinnati Budde faces Miamisburg today in the first round elimination before the winners of those games meet later today to decide which team will play Portsmouth.

Portsmouth racked seven runs in 6½ innings to Miamisburg's single score. Then Miamisburg exploded for four runs in the seventh and two in the eighth.

Miamisburg made it into the quarterfinals with an 11-6 triumph over Lancaster earlier in the day. Miamisburg scored six runs in the opening inning.

Columbus Scioto won two games Wednesday. It defeated Chagrin Falls, 4-2, and Kirtland, 7-3. Angie Bindoff and Mike Mazer both hit home runs for Columbus.

Bill Stone and Sam Turrentine's two-run homers for Steubenville were not enough as the team lost to Cincinnati, which piled up four runs in the first, 8-5.

Jeff Black of Lancaster slammed a home run in the first inning for the single score as his team downed Sandusky, 1-0. Lancaster catcher Fred Campbell saved the victory when he picked off a runner on first with players on first and second with two outs in the top of the ninth.

throw home, held the base as Bill Melton fouled out for the second out of the inning. Bill Sharp then came through with a dramatic hit to right, scoring pinch runner Lee Richard with the winning run.

Red Sox 1, Brewers 0

Moret had two out in the eighth when light-hitting Pedro Garcia lined the first pitch to left field for a single.

That moved Bob Coluccio, who had walked, to second, and brought Dick Drago out of the bullpen. The veteran righthander got Don Money on a line drive to end the inning. Mike Hegan accounted for the Brewers' other hit with a leadoff single in the ninth and Bob Veale came on to preserve the victory.

Yankees 4, Orioles 3

Thurman Munson drove in one run and scored what proved to be the winner in New York's victory over Baltimore. The Yanks took a 1-0 lead in the first when Brooks Robinson fumbled a grounder by Bill Sudakis, scoring Roy White, then added two more runs in the third.

Royals 7-5, Twins 6-1

Amos Otis drilled his third hit of the game, delivering George Brett with Kansas City's winning run in the eighth inning as the Royals defeated Minnesota in the first game of their doubleheader. The Royals won the nightcap as Jim Wohlford, Brett and Frank White tripled in runs.

Tigers 3, Indians 2

Detroit left-hander Mickey Lolich tossed a seven-hitter and the Tigers scored all their runs on five straight singles in the seventh inning to edge Cleveland.

A's 8, Rangers 4

Oakland's Reggie Jackson cracked a three-run homer and Joe Rudi added a solo shot to ignite the A's over Texas.

Ryan, Moret
Miss No-Hitters

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Both Nolan Ryan of the California Angels and Roger Moret of the Boston Red Sox took nohitters into the late stages Wednesday night, only to lose their grip.

Ryan's no-hit bid dissolved in the ninth inning and he lost a 2-1 heart-breaker to the Chicago White Sox. Moret held Milwaukee hitless until the eighth inning but needed relief help to beat the Brewers 1-0.

After Ryan struck out Jorge Orta, his 13th strikeout of the game, leading off the ninth inning, Dick Allen beat out a slow roller along the third base line for a hit.

Then the roof fell in and the White Sox poured across their winning runs against the Angels' strikeout king.

In the other American League games, the New York Yankees beat the Baltimore Orioles 4-3; the Kansas City Royals took a doubleheader from the Minnesota Twins 7-6 and 5-1; the Detroit Tigers nipped the Cleveland Indians 3-2 and the Oakland A's ripped the Texas Rangers 8-4.

After Allen beat out a roller off the hard-throwing Ryan, Carlos May reached first on an error by first baseman Bruce Bochte and Ken Henderson singled to center to score the tying run for Chicago.

Henderson, who took second on the throw home, held the base as Bill Melton fouled out for the second out of the inning. Bill Sharp then came through with a dramatic hit to right, scoring pinch runner Lee Richard with the winning run.

Anderson
And Gabriel
To Get Nod

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Indications are the starting quarterbacks in the NFL exhibition game in Cincinnati Saturday night will be Ken Anderson for the Bengals and Roman Gabriel for the Philadelphia Eagles.

Bengals Coach Paul Brown indicated Wednesday he will give the nod to Anderson who crossed the NFLPA picket line to rejoin the team three weeks ago. The Eagles announced earlier that Gabriel will start.

Pickets returned to the Bengals camp Wednesday after a day's absence.

Brown, who earlier expressed worry over the future of 14 striking starters, now says he is going to make plans for the season without them as the strike continues.

Brown earlier said strikers, many of them getting over offseason surgery, were in need of the camp to rehabilitate them.

Brown said, reviewing the strike, "it begins to appear a small core of players on certain teams will not return no matter how long the strike goes."

More Bengals veterans have reported to camp than any other NFL team.

"We are making plans with that in mind," Brown said.

Circleville All-Stars 12, Bourneville 2

Brad Willoughby tossed a two-hitter to pace the Circleville All-Stars to their third straight win. They will tangle with Laughlin Vending Friday at 6 p.m. in the Chillicothe Tournament.

Willoughby walked three and fanned five for the win and had a hand in one of two double plays.

Mark Morrison tagged a triple for the All-Stars, and Rod Bumgarner and Mark Agin had doubles. Jerry Mogan collected three hits.

Birmingham Wins 5th In Row

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

The Birmingham Americans are the only undefeated team left in the World Football League. But it hasn't been easy.

"I'll never make it through the season like this," declared Coach Jake Gotta after his Americans pulled out a hair-raising 28-22 victory over the Detroit Wheels Wednesday night.

Gotta's Americans fell behind 22-20 with just one minute to play when Detroit's Bubba Wyche hit Jon Henderson with an 18-yard touchdown pass. But Birmingham quarterback Matt Reed, a strong-armed rookie out of Grambling, immediately went to work.

Mediator Expresses Hope For Settlement Of Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — A ray of hope that a solution to the 39-day football strike may be within reach emerged today following a marathon 13-hour negotiating session which broke up early this morning.

"This is by far the best meeting we've had," said chief federal mediator W.J. Usery Jr. "I am still hopeful we can have a resolution this week."

Usery is scheduled to meet again today with representatives of the striking National Football League Players Association and the 26 club owners. Both sides will meet separately before Usery brings them together. No time was announced for the joint meeting, although Usery indicated it would.

Usery is scheduled to meet again

Gary Player Favored In PGA Tourney

CLEMMONS, N.C. (AP) — Veteran Vic Ghezzi, who has walked the fairways with the great and near-great of golf for four decades, appeared star-struck as he watched Gary Player drill his shots like a well-oiled machine on the Tanglewood practice tee.

"Look at that man," exclaimed the 64-year-old former PGA champion from Rumson, N.J. "I've watched him hit 200 drives and 190 of them were as if they had come out of a single mold."

"If he had a crayon attached to his driver, it would leave a single line. I have to pick him to win here."

"Me, too," said Sam Snead, 62, winner of three PGA titles and a threat to take No. 4 at an age when some men are groping for a rocking chair. "This is a driver's course. The man who can drive the ball straight will win here."

"I have to give the edge to Player. Or maybe even Lee Trevino. They will be hitting irons and three woods off a lot of the tees. There will be no advantage to big hitters such as Jack Nicklaus and Tom Weiskopf."

Thus the curtain was pulled back for the confrontation of the shot managers and the muscle men in the 56th PGA Championship, starting today over the 7,050-yard, par 70 Tanglewood course.

Player, already winner of the Masters and British Open this year, and Nicklaus, with a record of 14 major championships to his credit, are the favorites at 6-1 informal odds, followed by Trevino, Weiskopf, Johnny Miller, Jerry Heard and Hubert Green, ranging from 101 to 20-1.

Ghezzi, PGA winner in 1941 and runner-up in the U.S. Open in 1946, predicted that accuracy rather than overwhelming power would be the deciding factor during the next four days.

Snead had practice rounds of 70 and 68 the last two days.

Joyce C. Speeds To Lifetime Mark

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Joyce C. set a lifetime record of 1:54 4-5 for a mile to win the $4,000 featured eighth race at Scioto Downs Wednesday night.

The winner paid $7.40, $3 and $3.20. Chatterbox came in second to net $2.80 and $3 while Rare Butterfly followed for $7.60.

The daily double combination of Armbrro Orlando and Jaquet, 7-5, paid $120.

A crowd of 4,356 wagered $218,968.

He connected on passes of 14 and 19 yards to Dennis Homan, ran nine yards himself and then, with just 26 seconds left, hit Al Jenkins in the end zone with a 17-yarder.

The Americans have won all five games they've played by a combined margin of just 41 points.

Elsewhere in the WFL, the Philadelphia Bell whipped the Memphis Southmen 46-15; the Florida Blazers doused the Chicago Fire 46-21; the New York Stars edged the Southern California Sun 11-8; and the Portland Storm struggled to a 15-15 tie with the Houston Texans.

The Hawaiians are at Jacksonville in tonight's national television game.

Birmingham, in addition to keeping today with representatives of the striking National Football League Players Association and the 26 club owners. Both sides will meet separately before Usery brings them together. No time was announced for the joint meeting, although Usery indicated it would take place before noon.

The latest negotiating session began around 10 a.m. EDT, Wednesday and was not recessed until 1 a.m., although a couple of hours were taken out for meals. Although no substantive results were announced, Usery's post-meeting statements to newsmen were optimistic.

"I feel much better about our meetings today," Usery said. "It's too early to predict what will happen, but I don't think the attitudes could have been much better."

Late Wednesday, Bill Curry of the Houston Oilers, NFLPA president, denied a report that the players were coming up with new proposals.

Today is the sixth day the warring parties are meeting with Usery during the past two weeks, following similar meetings earlier with his assistants, James Searce and Lewis Sabbatino.

Meanwhile, the ranks of veterans leaving the strike position and reporting to preseason training camps continued to grow, although well over two thirds remained out on strike.

Tigers Edge Tribe, 3-2

DETROIT (AP) — The second-place Cleveland Indians fell three games behind division-leading Boston Wednesday night as the Tribe lost 3-2 to Detroit and the Red Sox edged Milwaukee 1-0.

It was only the second loss in seven games for the Indians, who held a 2-0 lead over the Tigers going into the seventh.

Fritz Peterson had successfully scattered eight hits for Cleveland going into the Tiger side of the seventh. He gave way to reliever Fred Beene after Ed Brinkman and Jerry Moses rapped singles.

Beene, who entered the game with a 5.31 earned-run average was greeted by rookie Ron LeFlore's run-scoring single and another RBI single by Gary Sutherland.

Beene took the loss and with it some harsh remarks from Cleveland Manager Ken Aspromonte.

"What is (Tom) Buskey supposed to do, pitch every day? Or Milt Wilcox?" Aspromonte growled. "If a guy can't do his job he shouldn't be on the ball-club, that's all. He's had five or six days off."

Buskey, who saved the last three Indians' victories to give him 11 saves for the season, took over for Beene and gave up a single to Al Kaline which drove in the winning run.

its unbeaten record intact, also took attendance honors for the evening with a paid crowd of 40,367.

Philadelphia 46, Memphis 15
King Corcoran threw four touchdown passes for the Bell, including a swing pass that John Land carried 64 yards into the end zone on the first play of the game.

Attendance was announced at 12,396 paid, a far cry from the 50,000-plus paid claimed by Bell officials for their first two home games. Team officials later admitted that attendance figures for the first two games included thousands of free admissions.

Florida 46, Chicago 21
Rod Foster's 86-yard punt return for a touchdown ignited the Blazers' attack. Florida broke it open in a 1:27 span of the third period when Len Bryant blocked a Fire punt and carried it in for a score and Billy Hobbs intercepted a pass and raced 30 yards for another one.

Paid attendance of 31,193 was announced for the game at Chicago.

New York 11, Southern California 8
The New York Stars fumbled seven times but managed the three-point triumph over Southern California.

Quarterback Tom Sherman's 40-yard scoring pass to Bert Askon with 8:19 left in the game gave the Stars the victory. Moses Lajterman's 32-yard field goal on the final play of the first half was the only other New York scoring.

Attendance in Anaheim was announced at 27,873 paid.

Portland 15, Houston 15
This was the WFL's first tie game, and both teams scored touchdowns but missed extra points in the 15-minute overtime period. The Texans went on top 15-8 halfway through the extra period on a 12-yard pass from Mike Taliaferro to Rick Eber. The Storm earned a tie with just 13 seconds left on a 15-yard TD pass from Ken Johnson to Sam Dickerson.

Paid attendance in Portland was announced at 15,686.

Top Netters Score Wins

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — All of the four top men's seeds — Jimmy Connors, Ilie Nastase, Bjorn Borg and Manuel Orantes — won their matches Wednesday in the rain-delayed U.S. Clay Court Tennis Championships.

The rain, almost as much of a tradition in Indianapolis as the 500-mile race, caused postponement of several doubles matches. It could also give tournament officials some scheduling problems over the next two or three days.

Connors, the top-seeded Wimbledon titlist from Belleville, Ill., decisively defeated Roger Dowdeswell of Rhodesia, 6-2, 6-2.

Romania's Nastase, who has led the tennis Grand Prix for the past two years, struggled for three sets against Marcelo Lara of Mexico in a first-round match, 6-3, 6-7, 6-3.

Borg, the 18-year-old Swedish superstar, clobbered Trey Waltke of St. Louis 6-0 in the first set but had a tougher time winning the second, 7-5.

And Orantes, defending Clay Court champ from Spain who is seeded No. 4 this year, moved ahead in his title defense by defeating countryman Antonio Manoz, 6-4, 6-2.

With the exception of Nastase, all the other top seeds had played one match before. Nastase arrived Tuesday from the Davis Cup series with Italy, which Romania lost 3-2.

Obviously tired from the long plane ride, he overcame a 5-1 deficit against Lara in the second set, led briefly 6-5 and then lost a 7-6 tiebreaker to even the match.

Nastase broke Lara's service in the sixth game of the deciding third set to remain in contention for the title.

Fake Kidnap Ends In Jail

SAYRE, Okla. (AP)—Ralph Gregory Burns, 26, of Cincinnati, Ohio, was sentenced to 45 days in the Beckham County jail and fined $500 for his part in a fake kidnap manhunt Tuesday.

Burns pleaded guilty to the false reporting of a crime and was sentenced by Associate District Judge Gary P. McGuinn.

Dist. Atty. Richard Dugger said police and FBI agents searched wooded areas near Erick with bloodhounds and four airplanes Tuesday for a fictitious long-haired man who Burns and a 17-year-old girl said abducted them.

The couple claimed they were abducted at gunpoint in Ohio Saturday and were forced to drive across state lines.

The couple apparently ran away from home and after several hours of questioning, told officers the abduction was a hoax, Dugger said.

The girl was sent back to her parents Wednesday.

Views OnTelevision

NEW YORK (AP) — Unless impeachment debates change planned schedules, all three TV networks will hold "premiere week" — the start of the fall TV season — the week of Sept. 9 amid much ballyhoo and drumbeating. Excluding ABC's "NFL Monday Night Football" show, 62 evening programs are in the networks' lineups for the new season. Of these, 25 are new.

CBS has five new shows and NBC and ABC 10 each. According to network spokesmen, only two won't start during "premiere week."

Those shows, both on ABC-TV, are "Nakia," an hour-long action-adventure series about a lawman of Navajo heritage, and "The Sonny Comedy Revue," starring Sonny Bono, but not Cher, who has left him. "Nakia" debuts Saturday, Sept. 21 and the Bono show Sept. 22.

Another ABC series, "That's My Mama," a half-hour situation comedy about a black family in Washington, D.C., is the only new show getting a jump on premiere week. ABC says it'll air Sept. 4, a Wednesday.

Lady cops, whose ranks are swelling on big-city police forces, will make a limited dent in this season's law-and-order gang on TV.

Premiere week features two of the breed — "Christie Love" on ABC and "Police Woman" on NBC. The shows respectively star Teresa Graves and Angie Dickinson, both as undercover detectives.

Another NBC series, "Amy Prentiss," features Jessica Walter as a police lieutenant in charge of male cops. The show replaces the "Hec Ramsey" segment on NBC's "Sunday Mystery Movie" quarter, but NBC says it doesn't know yet if Lt. Prentiss will report for duty Sept. 15.

Only two new shows — CBS' "Roda," a spinoff from the "Mary Tyler Moore Show" and NBC's "Born Free" — are on the Monday schedule during television's big week, and no new series will appear Tuesday nights.

The week's real rush of new series starts Wednesday, Sept. 11, with "Sons and Daughters" and "The Manhunter" on CBS; "Little House on the Prairie," "Lucas Tanner" and "Petrocelli" on NBC and "Christie Love" on ABC.

On Sept. 12, NBC's "Sierra" and "Movin' On" shows and ABC's "Paper Moon" and "Harry O" series will debut as regular programs.

CBS' new offering for Friday the 13th is "Planet of the Apes." NBC will provide "Chico & the Man," "The Rockford Files" and "Police Woman" as its new-show fare that night, while ABC is offering "Kodiak," "Texas Wheelers" and "Kolchak: The Night Stalker."

On Saturday, Sept. 14, the new regular shows kicking off are "The Paul Sand" show on CBS and ABC's "The New Land" series, to be joined a week later by "Nakia."

The only blockbuster movies in the premiere week lineup are the film version of "M-A-S-H," aired by CBS Friday night, Sept. 13, and "Kluge," starring Jane Fonda as a prostitute and Donald Sutherland as a detective. NBC says it'll show that film Saturday Sept. 15.

The duration record for treading water (vertical posture) is 18 hours by Mark T. Lowder, 16, of Albermarle, N.C., July 20-21, 1972, at Rock Creek Park.

Angling For Cod

HERNE BAY, England (AP) — Wrecks of ships sunk in the English Channel during the Second World War are providing good fishing for anglers. Five fishermen in two dinghies located one of the wrecks, which served as a gathering place for fish, and returned with 650 pounds of prime cod.
